Sport in RUSSIA TODAY

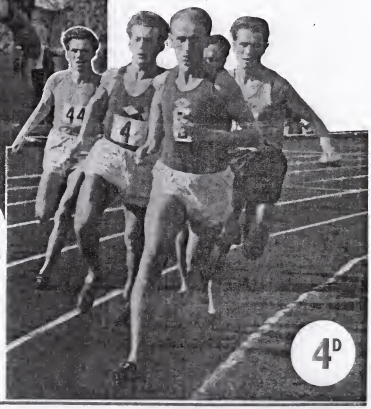
#19

SEP 14 1955
COPY EXCHANGE & GIFT DIVISION

MOSCOW sportsmen will be at the White City this October to compete against London athletes. The same month England's Arsenal football team is going to Russia to play against leading Soviet teams.

But only 40 years ago sport was almost unknown in Russia. How did this vast country become one of the leading sports nations in the world ?

In this publication you will read what sport was like in Russia before the Revolution and what it is like now. You will learn from articles written by experts what the Russians think of their chances in international sport and what they are likely to do in the future.



READ on page 7 what a British businessman wrote about his visit to Russia. Mr. J. B. Scott, who negotiated a £700,000 deal in Moscow last year, has written a down-to-earth, factual account of his trip.

YOU will be able to see a little bit of Russia at the British Food Fair, held at Olympia from September 7 to S[illegible]ember 18. The Soviet stand is the largest individual one at the Fair. Soviet products on view will range from Siberian salmon to Crimean champagne.

his is a special issue of "Russia Today", journal of the ish Soviet Friendship Soviet, 36 Spencer Street, London, 1. September-October, 1954.
